

Substitute Instructions – T.P.

About T.P.

T.P. is a very sweet and affectionate little boy. He is non-verbal but uses the “TouchChat” app on the iPad to let people know what he needs. He loves to play with cars, trains and sand. When outside, he likes to climb up the ladders and go down the slide, run down hills, but lately he LOVES to be pushed on the swings. He follows along with the class activities/schedule, but some of the activities may need to be modified. T.P. is currently working on one-to-one correspondence in math, and for literacy he is working on letter sounds and putting sounds together. He may need a break every now and then. If he does need a break, he gets to play with his cars/trains for a few minutes. He is potty trained, however he does need a few reminders throughout the day as he is not able to tell you that he needs to go, and he uses the urinal in the boy’s bathroom by his classroom. He has his lunch/snacks made at the school every day, they are in the staffroom fridge. He likes apples, fruit cups, granola bars, muffins, bear paws, and yogurt drinks. For lunch he usually just eats a sandwich, but he also likes “Mr. Noodle”. He has breakfast at school as well; he usually eats oatmeal or a muffin. One important thing to know about him is that he is terrified of dogs. If he sees one, he will run away in the opposite direction, so it is important to know your surroundings.
